Sub: Intimation for Strategic Collaboration with Gajju Technologies Private Limited (LEO1)

Dear Sir,

We are thrilled to unveil an exhilarating partnership that promises to redefine the boundaries between educational resources and financial technology. Humming Bird Education Limited, a pioneer in delivering superior educational content, is joining forces with Gajju Technologies Private Limited (LEO1), a visionary fintech startup. This collaboration marks a significant milestone in our journey towards innovation and excellence.

In an era where the fusion of technology and education is more critical than ever, our alliance with LEO1 stands as a testament to our commitment to providing holistic solutions to our clients. While both Humming Bird and LEO1 cater to the same client base, our offerings are distinct yet complementary, ensuring that our clients receive a broad spectrum of services without any overlap.

This partnership is not just a strategic business decision; it's a leap towards creating a synergistic ecosystem that benefits our clients. By embracing the concept of Edufintech, we are setting the stage for a new era where education and financial technology converge, offering seamless, innovative solutions that cater to the evolving needs of our clientele.

We are excited about the prospects of this partnership and confident in its potential to generate significant financial benefits for all stakeholders involved. As we embark on this journey with LEO1, we look forward to exploring new horizons and achieving milestones that will set new standards in the industry.

Kindly take the same in your records.

Thanking you,

Yours faithfully

For Humming Bird Education Limited
